

the CURIÔSITY matrix®

WHAT IS THE CURIÔSITY MATRIX?

The curiôcity matrix represents the relationship between your appetite for curiosity and the span of your Personal Learning Network (PLN).

The more curiôus you are, the more opportunities you'll explore proactively to learn socially and organically.

The infinity symbol ∞ reminds us that curiosity and learning has no end!

WHY

A healthy dose of curiôcity is what you need to remain nimble and to develop and grow your Personal Learning Network (PLN).

And...your PLN is the path to self directed and social learning so you can learn organically and quickly (just in time) learn what you need to know in a disruptive world, where the change is the new normal!

To be curiôus is to have an open mind that is continuously open to learning and new ideas.

It means you proactively seek new information, via numerous channels, to help make sense of ambiguity and to break new ground.

Develop your own PLN by exploring your networks close to you e.g. home and work, and then how you access information and connect beyond work, e.g. social media, meet ups, blogs, webinars, alumni etc.
